Fara Heath, Director

Fara's Challenge:

As a brand new school, Fara was on a search for scheduling software that would help her in managing student information for her school. After looking at the solutions she found in her Google search, Fara decided that Jackrabbit Music provided more of the features she needed than other systems.

The Details:

Fara was attracted by the fact that Jackrabbit was designed especially for music schools. The system includes many features that coincide with the way music schools operate. Fara finds the ability to access her Jackrabbit system from any Internet browser of great benefit. She can answer questions for her staff regardless of whether she is at home, on vacation or in the office. And that saves her staff the time they would search for - or possibly not be able to find - answers. The web-based format also comes in handy when she needs to provide answers to customers when she is outside of the office.

Fara realizes the value of teachers being able to log in and see information that affects their class schedules and their students. This is a great time saver, as well, since teachers would call her for information if they couldn't see it in the software.

Jackrabbit Music also has excellent report formats that present student and school information in ways that are useful. This is very valuable in being able to make quick decisions that are also good ones. With Jackrabbit's system appropriate, accurate data supports each decision.

Fara also likes the way Jackrabbit's system encourages constant communication with students and families.

You don't need to navigate to the email feature to use it. From several screens in the software where you view student data, you also have the opportunity to email students directly from the same screen.

JACKRABBIT
MUSIC

"Jackrabbit was an awesome software find for us! I don't know how we would take care of our 150 students without it. The software allows us to execute quickly in communicating with students and in taking care of their class needs. The database-driven system ensures that we each are armed with the best possible information for making decisions and the fact that our data can be accessed from any browser gives us great flexibility."

Jackrabbit's Value:

- Teachers can log in and view information that is important to their day and their students.
- Reports present information in useable views and enable viewpoints to be gained from different perspectives.
- Information is accessible via the Internet which makes providing accurate answers to questions from staff or from customers very easy and quick - no matter where you are.
- Current data is available from regardless of which feature is used via the powerful database driven platform.
